Why attend

This course equips internal audit professionals with advanced skills to enhance the value of their audits. Participants will learn to identify risks, improve processes, and communicate findings effectively, ultimately driving organisational improvement and stakeholder confidence.

Internal auditors face increasing pressure to demonstrate their value beyond compliance. Many struggle to align audit activities with strategic objectives, leading to missed opportunities for organisational improvement. This course addresses these challenges by equipping participants with the skills to identify and communicate risks effectively, ensuring audits contribute to business success. Participants will engage in practical exercises that simulate real-world audit scenarios, enabling them to apply techniques for risk assessment, process improvement, and stakeholder engagement. By developing these capabilities, auditors can enhance their influence within the organisation, ensuring that their work not only meets regulatory requirements but also drives strategic objectives and adds tangible value.
The ability to provide actionable insights from audit findings is crucial for internal auditors. This course focuses on developing skills to create value-added recommendations that resonate with stakeholders. Participants will practice constructing clear audit reports and facilitating discussions that lead to informed decision-making. By mastering these communication techniques, auditors can ensure their findings lead to meaningful changes within the organisation.
Additionally, the course will cover methods for integrating audit recommendations into business processes, fostering a culture of continuous improvement. Ultimately, participants will leave equipped with the tools to elevate their role and contribute significantly to their organisation's success.

Professional Problems This Course Is Designed to Solve

• Difficulty translating subject knowledge into practical workplace decisions.
• Inconsistent approaches to the activities covered in the course outline.
• Lack of a structured plan for applying and reviewing new skills.

Course methodology

The course employs a blend of case studies, role-playing, and group discussions to facilitate learning. Participants will work on real-life audit scenarios to practice risk assessment and process improvement techniques. Each session includes hands-on exercises where participants will develop audit reports and recommendations, providing tangible outputs that demonstrate their learning and application of concepts. By engaging in collaborative activities, participants will also enhance their communication skills, ensuring they can effectively convey audit findings and recommendations to stakeholders. The focus on practical application ensures that participants can immediately implement their new skills in their workplace, thereby increasing the overall value of the internal audit function.
