Why attend

Many improvement projects fail not because of poor solutions but because people do not adopt them. This course covers change management for improvement projects: stakeholder analysis, understanding resistance, communication, involvement, training, reinforcing new behaviours and measuring adoption.

The human side of improvement determines whether results last. You will learn to lead change alongside technical improvement.

Professional Problems This Course Is Designed to Solve

- Difficulty translating subject knowledge into practical workplace decisions.
- Inconsistent approaches to the activities covered in the course outline.
- Lack of a structured plan for applying and reviewing new skills.

Course methodology

Stakeholder mapping, resistance role plays, communication planning and case studies.

Course objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Explain the human side of improvement
- Analyse stakeholders and impacts
- Understand and address resistance
- Plan communication and involvement
- Train and support people through change
- Reinforce and measure adoption

Target audience

This course is suitable for:
