Why attend

Organisations working in the Gulf and wider Middle East need to understand regional communication norms and stakeholder expectations. This course covers cultural context, relationship-based communication, government and media landscapes, business etiquette, bilingual communication, social media use in the region and building long-term trust.

Cultural misunderstandings can derail partnerships and projects. You will learn to communicate respectfully and effectively in the region.

Professional Problems This Course Is Designed to Solve

- Difficulty translating subject knowledge into practical workplace decisions.
- Inconsistent approaches to the activities covered in the course outline.
- Lack of a structured plan for applying and reviewing new skills.

Course methodology

Cultural case studies, role plays, media landscape briefings and communication planning.

Course objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Understand regional cultural context
- Apply relationship-based communication
- Navigate government and media landscapes
- Observe business etiquette and protocol
- Plan bilingual communication
- Build long-term trust with regional stakeholders
