Why attend

Organisations cannot protect information they have not identified. This course shows how to design and roll out a practical data classification scheme, label documents and data, define handling rules for each level, apply technical controls such as data loss prevention, and build staff habits that keep sensitive information safe.

Most data leaks come from everyday handling mistakes. You will learn to put simple, well-understood rules in place across the organisation.

Professional Problems This Course Is Designed to Solve

- Difficulty translating subject knowledge into practical workplace decisions.
- Inconsistent approaches to the activities covered in the course outline.
- Lack of a structured plan for applying and reviewing new skills.

Course methodology

Scheme design workshops, labelling exercises, tool demonstrations and awareness campaign planning.

Course objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Explain the purpose of data classification
- Design a classification scheme and handling rules
- Identify and inventory sensitive information
- Apply labelling and data loss prevention controls
- Align classification with privacy and regulatory requirements
- Train staff and monitor compliance
