Why attend

New risks from technology, climate, geopolitics and society can emerge quickly and catch organisations unprepared. This course teaches horizon scanning and emerging risk management: sources and methods for scanning, assessing velocity and impact, scenario thinking, early warning indicators and integrating emerging risks into strategy.

Organisations that see change early have more options. You will learn practical methods to spot and prepare for emerging risks.

Professional Problems This Course Is Designed to Solve

- Difficulty translating subject knowledge into practical workplace decisions.
- Inconsistent approaches to the activities covered in the course outline.
- Lack of a structured plan for applying and reviewing new skills.

Course methodology

Horizon scanning exercises, scenario workshops, case studies and indicator design.

Course objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Explain emerging risks and their characteristics
- Run horizon scanning processes
- Assess impact, likelihood and velocity
- Use scenarios to explore uncertain futures
- Design early warning indicators
- Integrate emerging risks into strategy and ERM

Target audience

This course is suitable for:

- Risk managers
- Strategy and planning professionals
- Senior leaders
- Board risk committee members
- Innovation managers

Course content
