Why attend

Gifts and hospitality are common in business but can create bribery risks and conflicts of interest. This course explains anti-bribery requirements and practical controls: gift and hospitality policies, thresholds and registers, approvals, public official rules, third-party risks, monitoring and investigations.

Innocent-looking gifts can lead to serious legal exposure. You will learn to set clear rules and controls that protect staff and the organisation.

Professional Problems This Course Is Designed to Solve

- Difficulty translating subject knowledge into practical workplace decisions.
- Inconsistent approaches to the activities covered in the course outline.
- Lack of a structured plan for applying and reviewing new skills.

Course methodology

Scenario discussions, policy drafting, register review exercises and case studies of enforcement.

Course objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Explain anti-bribery laws and principles
- Draft gifts and hospitality policies
- Set thresholds, approvals and registers
- Apply stricter rules for public officials
- Monitor and test gift and hospitality controls
- Respond to breaches and suspicions

Target audience

This course is suitable for:
