Why attend

People are both the biggest information security risk and the strongest defence. This course covers designing and running security awareness programmes: understanding human risk, audience analysis, engaging content, phishing simulations, measuring behaviour change, reinforcing culture and meeting compliance requirements.

Annual click-through training rarely changes behaviour. You will learn to build awareness programmes that actually reduce risk.

Professional Problems This Course Is Designed to Solve

• Difficulty translating subject knowledge into practical workplace decisions.
• Inconsistent approaches to the activities covered in the course outline.
• Lack of a structured plan for applying and reviewing new skills.

Course methodology

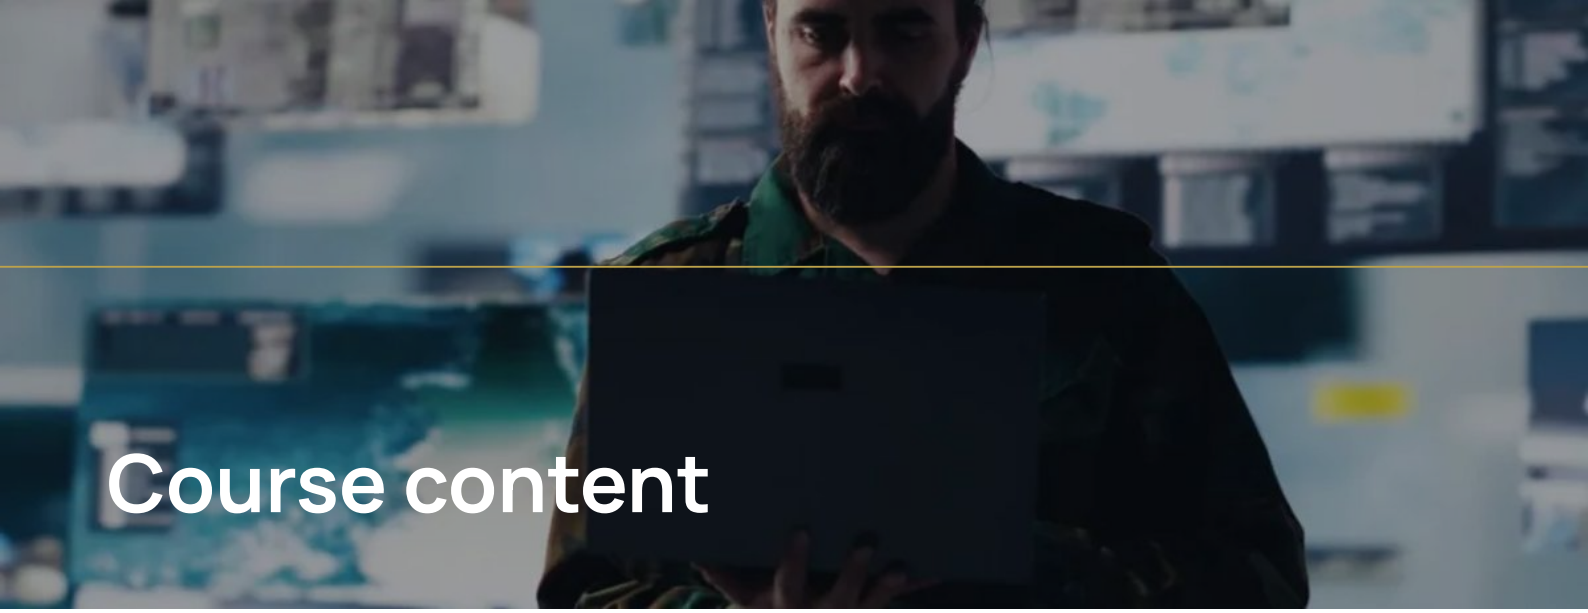

Programme design workshops, content creation exercises, phishing simulation planning and metrics design.

Course objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:
• Analyse human security risks
• Define awareness programme objectives
• Create engaging awareness content
• Plan phishing simulations ethically
• Measure behaviour change
• Build a positive security culture

Target audience

This course is suitable for:
• Information security managers
• Awareness and training coordinators
• IT managers
• HR and communication professionals
• Compliance officers

Course content
