Why attend

When auditors uncover possible fraud or misconduct, interviews become investigative and must be handled with care. This course covers investigative interviewing: legal and ethical considerations, planning, the PEACE model, building rapport, questioning strategies, recognising deception cues responsibly, admissions and documentation.

Poorly conducted investigative interviews can compromise cases. You will learn ethical, effective techniques used by professional investigators.

Professional Problems This Course Is Designed to Solve

- Difficulty translating subject knowledge into practical workplace decisions.
- Inconsistent approaches to the activities covered in the course outline.
- Lack of a structured plan for applying and reviewing new skills.

Course methodology

Interview simulations with role players, video review, planning exercises and case studies.

Course objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Distinguish audit and investigative interviews
- Plan investigative interviews
- Apply the PEACE interviewing model
- Use questioning strategies to test accounts
- Avoid unreliable deception indicators
- Document interviews to evidential standards

Target audience

This course is suitable for:
