Why attend

Organisations repeat project mistakes when lessons are not captured, shared and acted upon. This course shows how to build an effective lessons learned process and broader project knowledge management, including after-action reviews, knowledge repositories, communities of practice and embedding lessons into standards and training.

Most lessons learned reports are never read. This course helps you create a practical system that actually changes how projects are delivered.

Professional Problems This Course Is Designed to Solve

• Difficulty translating subject knowledge into practical workplace decisions.
• Inconsistent approaches to the activities covered in the course outline.
• Lack of a structured plan for applying and reviewing new skills.

Course methodology

The course uses facilitation practice, knowledge management case studies, process design workshops and review simulations.

Course objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:
• Explain the value of project knowledge management
• Facilitate effective lessons learned and after-action reviews
• Capture lessons in a useful and searchable form
• Share knowledge through networks and communities of practice
• Embed lessons into processes, standards and training
• Measure the impact of knowledge management

Target audience

This course is suitable for:
• PMO managers and staff
• Project and programme managers
• Knowledge managers
• Quality managers
• Engineering and operations leaders

Course content

Target competencies

Participants will develop competencies in:

- Review facilitation
- Knowledge capture
- Knowledge sharing
- Process improvement
- Communities of practice
- Organisational learning
