Why attend

Regulators require financial institutions to remain able to deliver important business services through severe but plausible disruptions. This course covers identifying important business services, setting impact tolerances, mapping resources, scenario testing, remediation, governance and self-assessment.

Operational resilience is now a supervisory priority. This course helps you build a practical resilience framework that meets expectations.

Professional Problems This Course Is Designed to Solve

• Difficulty translating subject knowledge into practical workplace decisions.
• Inconsistent approaches to the activities covered in the course outline.
• Lack of a structured plan for applying and reviewing new skills.

Course methodology

The course uses service mapping workshops, impact tolerance exercises, scenario testing and case studies.

Course objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:
• Explain operational resilience regulatory expectations
• Identify important business services
• Set impact tolerances
• Map people, processes, technology and third parties
• Conduct severe but plausible scenario testing
• Govern, remediate and self-assess resilience

Target audience

This course is suitable for:
• Operational resilience and business continuity managers
• Risk managers in financial services
• IT and operations leaders
• Compliance professionals
• Internal auditors

Course content
