Why attend

Transfer pricing determines how profits are allocated between related companies in different countries and is a major focus of tax authorities worldwide. This course explains the arm's length principle, OECD guidelines, transfer pricing methods, functional analysis, documentation requirements, intangibles and services, and dispute prevention. Participants analyse group transactions and prepare documentation outlines.

Transfer pricing errors can lead to double taxation, penalties and reputational damage. This course gives finance and tax professionals a practical foundation to manage intercompany pricing and compliance.

Professional Problems This Course Is Designed to Solve

• Difficulty translating subject knowledge into practical workplace decisions.
• Inconsistent approaches to the activities covered in the course outline.
• Lack of a structured plan for applying and reviewing new skills.

Course methodology

The course uses worked examples, functional analysis exercises, case studies and documentation workshops. It provides general guidance and does not constitute tax advice.

Course objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:
• Explain the arm's length principle and OECD framework
• Conduct a functional analysis of related-party transactions
• Select and apply appropriate transfer pricing methods
• Price intercompany services, goods, financing and intangibles
• Prepare master file and local file documentation
• Manage audits, disputes and risk

Target audience

This course is suitable for:
• Tax managers and specialists
• Finance managers in multinational groups
• Financial controllers
• Auditors
• Legal and compliance professionals

Course content
